

Integrating Climate Change into Your Work

1. Think of a real-world project from your work.

Jot down the project name and primary management goals:

2. Think about how climate change could affect that project.

- What climate change impacts may affect the site?
- How might climate change create management challenges?
- How might climate change create management opportunities?

3. What management actions could help the forest adapt and meet landowner goals?

- What management activities are you already doing (or planning to do) that are also good for climate change adaptation?
- What small tweaks or enhancements could improve your odds of success?
- Would major changes might be helpful, now or farther into the future?
